DIVISION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

-----X
Charles Lamberti,

Complainant,

- v -

Motorola Solutions, Inc.,

COMPLAINT

Respondent.

Charles Lamberti, through his attorneys, John Ray & Associates, appears and complains as follows:

1. At all relevant times herein, Charles Lamberti, hereinafter "Complainant" was a white male employee of Motorola Solutions, Inc., hereinafter "Respondent" and was over the age of 40 years.
2. At all relevant times herein, Complainant was employed by Respondent, with offices in New York, County of Suffolk, at 1 Motorola Plaza, Holtsville, New York, 11742.

ACTS OF DISCRIMINATION AND RETALIATION AGAINST COMPLAINANT

3. Complainant was employed by Respondent for 25 years. In January 2010, a new supervisor, Sanders, was promoted over Respondent. During a mid-year review in 2010, Sanders informed Respondent that his "career was over" but did not give him any details as to why.
4. Respondent's decision to terminate Complainant was unlawfully, unethically and improperly based on Complainant's involvement in protected workplace activities over the preceding five years.

5. In December 2005, a co-worker, Melitsky, was promoted over Complainant to Senior Vice-President, along with several other persons promoted from within to fill senior leadership roles. Complainant was not promoted; rather, he was directed to take over the open position vacated by Melitsky, with the carrot of a promise of promotion in March. Complainant's duties and projects were transferred to another employee, Wenze, who was also promoted.
6. Inherently, Complainant's duties and responsibilities increased. He faced immediate pressure to fix a problem that existed before his arrival – namely the performance of two groups, regulatory and mechanical engineering – which required substantial overhauls in management, addition of resources, creation of new processes and training; and, attempting to minimize high employee turnover in a third group.
7. Complainant performed these duties, successfully, for more than 10 months with no change in title; no change in compensation; no additional compensation for the increased hours, duties and responsibilities; and no promotion, despite the repeated promises by management that one was “just around the corner.”
8. In April 2006, Complainant was directed to remove the “Acting” from his title of Director but was not given any additional compensation and was not otherwise promoted.
9. In May, June, July, August 2006, after making repeated inquiries of Melitsky about the status of the promised promotion, Complainant was told by Melitsky “don't worry”; “I always keep my word”; “I am working on it”; however, upon a corporate acquisition with a separate entity in September 2006, the promised promotion was delayed until February 2007, per Melitsky.

10. This unlawfully, improperly and unethically negatively impacted Complainant's bonus; his due pay; and his retirement fund.
11. Thereafter, in October 2008, Complainant was demoted to a lower paygrade and title than his 2005 position, E14 (my emphasis); this was after performing all relevant, necessary, and needed duties, tasks and responsibilities of a Senior Director for 18 months; performing extra work without being properly compensated for it; while other employees who were underperforming and had less responsibilities were promoted and given raises.
12. Throughout 2009 and 2010, Complainant was instructed to file additional paperwork to be approved for the job that he had already been performing; he did so and submitted it to Melitsky, who actively sabotaged the promotion by withholding critical information about Complainant's stellar performance during his 18-month tenure as a de facto Vice-President, from Sanders, who was to become Complainant's new supervisor.
13. Thereafter, Respondent, its agents and employees, took additional overt, unlawful and improper measures against Complainant, including
 - a. requiring him to provide a detailed schedule of his recreational activities and the days he was requesting as vacation;
 - b. requiring that Complainant "approve" said vacations and activities;
 - c. constantly monitoring of his whereabouts by random "check-ins"
 - d. Delaying as far as possible his midyear reviews, so that Respondent would avoid having to pay Complainant his earned bonus and give him a deserved raise.
14. Following his mid-year review in 2010, Complainant was informed that his career was "over".

15. Complainant immediately requested an internal ethics investigation, as was his right to do. The investigation was conducted in a superficial, haphazard, circular manner. It concluded with Complainant being informed that he was going to be terminated but never providing a reason as to why. No evidence of wrong-doing was found by Respondent's own investigation of itself.
16. Suddenly facing immense pressure and the imminent prospect of becoming unemployed, Complainant hastily signed a letter dated November 12, 2010, which provided that he would be placed on an "Involuntary Severance Plan" and that if he signed and did not revoke an accompanying General Release, he would be paid a severance payment of $85,727.20; the letter additionally provided that he would not seek work or accept work in any capacity at any Motorola facility until after December 31, 2011, and that he would otherwise not bring "any lawsuit or internal claims or complaints against Motorola", with said clause qualified as, "to the extent permitted by applicable law." (Exhibit A).
17. The accompanying General Release, prepared, drafted and provided by Respondent, expressly provides that despite language in it which purports to waive claims under various federal acts, including Title VII, ADEA, ADA, FMLA, etc., [such a provision is invalid on its face, as it is void as a matter of public policy], Complainant was "not releasing any claim or right which cannot be waived by law, including the right to file an administrative charge of discrimination and the right to file or pursue a workers' compensation claim." (Exhibit B). Complainant is hereby exercising his "right to file an administrative claim of discrimination", without waiving any other rights he may have.
18. The following acts undertaken by Respondent were unlawful, improper, and unethical, contrary to public policy and contrary to state and federal laws:

- a. Maintaining, encouraging and facilitating a hostile work environment towards Complainant;
- b. A practice and policy of failure to promote qualified, white, over-40 men, including Complainant, to senior management positions;
- c. A willful, deliberate and intentional failure to pay Complainant his due compensation, including prevailing market wages, for an 18-month period during which he performed, as directed, all duties of a Vice-President;
- d. Promoting and giving pay raises to other, less-qualified employees, based on improper factors such as their age, gender, and race;
- e. Actively retaliating against Complainant by demoting him after his 18 months of performing all attendant duties, tasks, and responsibilities of Vice-President (without any commensurate increase in pay or other benefits);
- f. Actively retaliating against Complainant by requiring him to provide a detailed account of his whereabouts; his outside recreational activities; and his vacation schedule;
- g. Actively retaliating against Complainant by refusing to schedule him for weekly one-on-one meetings with his superior, Sanders, (who held these meetings with every other employee who directly reported to him) thus denying Complainant necessary opportunities to discuss ongoing issues, problems and solutions and any ability to resolve same in a timely and productive manner;
- h. Actively retaliating against Complainant by firing him after he requested an internal ethics investigation regarding the claims made herein;

- i. Actively retaliating against Complainant when he declined to summarily terminate a black, over-40 contractual employee working in the United Kingdom, as there was no reason or cause to do so, except for that Respondent wished to “repurpose the funds” despite the fact that this employee was covered by a contract and had no prior warnings or disciplinary issues and discharging the employee in such a manner would violate internal company policies and state and federal law;
- j. Moving Complainant’s mid-year reviews to the last possible moment in an effort to further demoralize and disrupt Complainant, while other employees were not treated in such a disparate, disparaging manner;
- k. Placing Complainant on a “lay-off list” that was mere pretext for the unlawful, illegal and improper practices complained of herein and actually terminating Complainant, while other employees, who were less qualified and less senior and were not male, over-40, and white, were re-hired by Respondent;
- l. Compiling a “lay-off” list that was not actually a lay-off list, as those employees who were “hired back” were never truly laid off in the first place but were placed on the list as names to simply avoid suspicion of improper and illegal activities by Respondent.
- m. Discriminating against Complainant in his outside recreational activities;
- n. Replacing Complainant with a less-qualified employee who was thereafter placed in the same position that Complainant held, with the same oversight that Complainant had, despite Respondent’s claim that the reason for the “lay-off” was job elimination.

- o. The aforesaid acts were directly in contravention of state and federal law and Motorola Solutions, Inc.'s internal guidelines, by-laws and policies.

JURISDICTION

19. The above acts were in violation of New York State Human Rights Law, Executive Law § 296 et. seq. and thus jurisdiction is proper to bring this complaint in the New York State Division of Human Rights.

Discrimination under the Executive Law

20. By the acts and practices described above, Respondent has discriminated against Complainant in the terms and conditions of his employment based on his sex, age, and race, and based upon his outside recreational activities, in violation of the Human Rights Law.

21. As a result of Respondent's discriminatory acts, Complainant has suffered and will continue to suffer loss of back pay, loss of benefits, loss of front pay and benefits, irreparable injury, monetary damage, mental anguish, emotional distress, humiliation and other compensable damages.

Retaliation under the Executive Law

22. By the acts and practices described above, Respondent has retaliated against Complainant because Complainant complained about the unlawful discrimination, as Complainant was seeking to be paid proper wages for performing the duties of a higher job title; for requesting that an internal ethics investigation be commenced after he was never promoted but was actually demoted and ultimately fired.

23. As a result of the Respondent's discriminatory and retaliatory acts, Complainant has suffered and will continue to suffer irreparable injury, monetary damage, mental anguish, emotional distress, humiliation and other compensable damages.

24. All this was done with the Respondent's knowledge that its acts were unlawful, improper, and discriminatory and in violation of both federal and state law.

Discrimination and Retaliation under Federal Law

25. By the acts and practices described above, Respondent has engaged in discrimination and retaliation against Complainant in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967; the Americans with Disabilities Act; and the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (all Acts as amended).

WHEREFORE, Complainant seeks that the Division declare:

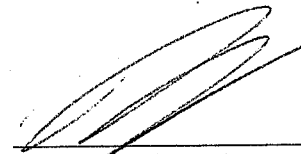

- a) the acts and practices of Respondent unlawful and in violation of state and federal law;
- b) enjoin and permanently restrain Respondent from engaging in such acts;
- c) direct the Respondent to take all necessary steps to eliminate such acts in the future;
- d) direct the Respondent to make Complainant whole by paying him all wages and earnings and other benefits he would have received but for Respondent's retaliatory and discriminatory treatment, including compensation for any adverse tax consequences;
- e) direct Respondent to pay Complainant compensatory damages, including but not limited to wages; lost retirement benefits; emotional distress; mental anguish; humiliation; and pain and suffering;

f) direct that Respondent pay additional amount as punitive damages for their willful, reckless disregard of Complainant's statutory rights;

g) award Complainant reasonable attorneys fees, costs and disbursements; and any other further proper relief.

GENERAL RELEASE

I hereby unconditionally and irrevocably release, waive and forever discharge Motorola, Inc., Motorola Mobility Holdings, Inc., Motorola Mobility, Inc. and their affiliates, parents, successors, subsidiaries, directors, officers, and employees ("Motorola"), from ANY and ALL causes of action, claims and damages, including attorneys fees, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, presently asserted or otherwise, which have or could have arisen to date out of my employment or separation from employment or any notice regarding my separation. This General Release ("Release") includes, but is not limited to, any claim or entitlement to pay, benefits or damages arising under any federal law, including but not limited to any claim under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, the California Fair Employment and Housing Act, the California Labor Code, and any federal, state, or local statute or ordinance; and any claim arising under any common law principle or public policy; and any claim under Motorola's Human Resources policies. These claims also include specifically, but are not limited to, any claim under the law of any country or subdivision thereof. If I live or work in New Jersey, I also specifically waive all claims under the New Jersey Conscientious Employee Protection Act. If I am employed in California, I expressly waive the protection of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California, which states that: "A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS WHICH THE CREDITOR DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE, WHICH IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER MUST HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR."

I understand by signing this Release I am not releasing any claim or right which cannot be waived by law, including the right to file an administrative charge of discrimination and the right to file or pursue a workers' compensation claim. I also acknowledge and agree that I have been paid properly for all hours worked and have received all leave to which I am entitled.

I acknowledge and agree that for a period of two years following my Employment Termination Date I will not recruit, solicit, induce or cause, allow, permit, aid or encourage others to recruit, solicit or induce, any employee of Motorola to terminate his/her employment with Motorola and/or to seek employment with any other employer.

I am signing this Release knowingly and voluntarily. I acknowledge that: (1) I have been advised in writing to consult an attorney before signing this Release; (2) I have relied solely on my own judgment and/or that of my attorney regarding the consideration for and the terms of this Release; (3) the severance allowance and severance benefit provided under the Motorola, Inc. Involuntary Severance Plan which I will receive for signing this Release are consideration in addition to anything to which I am otherwise entitled; (4) I have been given up to forty-nine (49) days to consider this Release, and an additional seven (7) days (15 days if I live or work in Minnesota) after signing to revoke it in writing; (5) I have read and understand the Release and further understand that it includes a general release of any and all known and unknown claims to date I may have against Motorola; (6) I agree that if I decide to revoke this Release I will notify a designated Employee Relations representative at Motorola of such revocation in writing; and, (7) no statements or conduct by Motorola have in any way coerced or unduly influenced me to execute this Release.

If any part of this General Release is found to be invalid, the rest shall remain enforceable. I further acknowledge that there are no other agreements of any nature between Motorola and me with respect to the matters discussed in this Release, except as expressly stated herein. I understand that to receive the severance allowance and benefits under the Motorola, Inc. Involuntary Severance Plan provided in consideration for this Release I must sign and mail/fax this Release no later than forty-nine (49) days from when I receive this Release.
